

Shambhala Music Festival Pre-Evacuation Alert

August 9, 2017 8:00PM PST

Please be informed:

In the interest of public safety, we would like to inform our guests and the public, that there is an evacuation alert near the festival grounds. We are currently communicating with local government to stay ahead of the situation.

BC Wildfire Service is currently fighting the fire with considerable force including 20 firefighters, 4 helicopters, 1 heavy equipment and 4 air tankers.

What does this mean to our guests?

While this does not currently affect the festival, all guests should be prepared for changing conditions.

What can you do?

- 1) Talk with your friends about an early departure in case things change.
- 2) Plan to have a well-rested designated driver throughout the festival.
- 3) Stay informed.

How to check for updates?

For updates, find us on www.shambhalamusicfestival.com.

Stay tuned to our social media channels and use the Shambhala Official Mobile App, as we will send push notifications.

For updates on the current McCormick Creek wildfire situation, visit:

Please, remember:

- A strict fire ban is still in effect and to be mindful of cigarette butts. Pocket ashtrays are available from the Green River Collective.
- Stay calm, tell your friends, and make sure everyone has a plan in place to leave the property if necessary.

Our staff is here to ensure your safety and will keep you updated as conditions change.
